

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a terminal window open. The terminal displays the output of running mocha tests for a Node.js application. The tests pass, indicating that the server is functioning correctly.

description
Server code displays listing data from the Json file view longer description	Code saves data from listing.json file into listingData variable and starts the server 7.0 pts	Code saves data from listing.json file into listingData variable but does not start server 5.0 pts	Code does not display data from the listing file or does not use the listingData variable or does not start server 0.0 pts	7.0 pts
Server.js code passes the server.test.js	Code passes all three tests 8.0 pts	Code only passes 1 or 2 tests 4.0 pts	Code written does not pass the three tests 0.0 pts	8.0 pts